

Knowing Good and Evil: Satan's Occult, Alchemical "Great Work"

by Steve Barwick

Gen 2:9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

Gen 3:5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

In relation to Genesis 2:9 and Genesis 3:5 above, a number of Bible students have written to ask me questions like "Why is Satan called the 'tree of the knowledge of good and evil?'" (Genesis 2:9) and "What's wrong with knowing the difference between good and evil?" (Genesis 3:5)? One student even wrote "It seems to me that knowing the difference between good and evil is a good thing."

But the Scripture does not say "knowing good from evil," or "knowing the difference between good and evil." It says "knowing good and evil." And to understand what that means, we have to take a deeper look at the definitions of the words used in those verses.

I'll tell you at the outset that, euphemistically speaking, to "know good and evil" is to have lost one's innocence. Adam and Eve lost their innocence in the garden when they allowed themselves to be seduced by the serpent into mixing together. They "coupled" with each other, so to speak, though they were warned not to even so much as "touch" the fruit of the tree of good and evil.

We know there was a physical seduction in the garden that resulted in a child named Cain (1 John 3:12). This occurred when Satan seduced Eve. It's the reason why Cain's name doesn't appear anywhere in Adam's genealogy in Genesis chapter 5. He was not Adam's child through Eve. He was Satan's child through Eve.

But there was a spiritual seduction involved, as well. A more subtle seduction. And it's that spiritual seduction we'll examine throughout the course of this study, in order to gain a deeper understanding of why Satan is called "the tree of the knowledge of good and evil" and what it means to "know good and evil" -- for that is what this entire flesh earth age is about.

To start, please allow me to lay a little bit of needed groundwork: As Christ taught in the great book of Matthew, to enter the kingdom of heaven you must become as a little child. A little child may know right from wrong, but he or she does not yet "know" evil -- i.e., does not yet have skill in evildoing, or have intimate knowledge of the methodology of evil. As Christ taught:

Matt 18:1 -- At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

Matt 18:2 -- And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

Matt 18:3 -- And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Matt 18:4 -- Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. (KJV)

In other words, to enter into the kingdom of heaven, you must first be converted and humbled, which is to say you must put aside your skill in doing evil, which you have acquired as an adult, and “become as little children.” Innocent.

All of us, over the course of our lifetimes, have been inundated with the ways of this world and the vain religious, political and social traditions of man, to the point that they’re almost second nature to us. We may not even realize that the “traditional” way of doing things is often completely evil in God’s eyes. After all, it’s the way “pappy” did it, and the way “grand pappy” did it, and the way “great grand pappy” did it.

But in all too many cases in this flesh earth age, God’s way has been completely replaced by Satan’s way of doing things, to the point that God’s children no longer even recognize their Father’s way. The ways of the world and the vain religious, political and social traditions of man have become second nature to us, when instead God’s Word and God’s Way should be second nature to us.

That’s what Christ spoke of in the verses above. God’s way should be completely natural to us, just like innocence from evil-doing is the natural state of a little child. Doing things God’s way by nature is the very definition of spiritual “innocence.” That’s why, in the Old Testament, our heavenly Father would lament of His children:

Jeremiah 4:22 -- For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish [i.e., stupid] children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

All too often, God’s children have become so wise in the ways of the world and the religious, political and social traditions of man, that it never even occurs to them to do things God’s Way.

Indeed, they all-too-often don’t know any other way. And unfortunately, that includes most Christians today. God’s Way has been pushed far from their minds. Through the traditions of man (i.e., the worldly ways of doing things), God’s Way has been made irrelevant i.e., “of none effect” (i.e., Matthew 15:6).

One Glaring Example

Let's take a quick look at just one glaring example of this, from the economic system before we proceed with our examination of "knowing good and evil." Under the influence of the Kenites, our People have substituted a disastrous debt-based (i.e., usurious) economic system, in place of the highly disciplined and completely just and fair economic system mandated in the Word of God.

As a result, whenever we decide we need to purchase something expensive (such as a new car, or a new washing machine, or new furniture, etc.) we run right out and "charge it" at high interest rates. That's to say, we willingly pledge large chunks of our future earnings to the moneylenders, for helping us acquire the goods or services we want here and now. In other words, the moneylenders then own a large part of the fruits of our future labor.

That's monetary slavery. Under this system we no longer work for ourselves, but instead, we work to pay the moneylenders the money we borrowed from them. For you see, when we participate in the Kenite debt system, we must work daily to pay back not only the original cost of the goods or services we purchased with the money they lent us, but we must also work to pay the substantial "vig," which is to say, the interest on that money. That's how the moneylenders earn their livings: through our labor.

In other words, we end up working to pay the living expenses of those who lent us the money. So they make their living off of our hard labor! And a very good living it is, indeed. Look for a better definition of slavery than that, and you'll not find it anywhere.

In the end, we actually end up paying back double or even triple the amount we originally borrowed because of the cost of the interest we must pay on the debt. And then we wonder why there is "never enough money left at the end of the month."

But hey, it's the way of the world. For goodness sakes, it's traditional to borrow money to acquire the goods and services we want today, and to work like dogs for years on end to pay back that money, along with the accrued interest, later on down the road. It's practically the only way our People know. But this is not God's way of economics. God's way forbids the use of usury, because it always leads to slavery.

In effect, as a People, we've embraced Satan's evil way of economics as our own. And for the most part, we don't even realize that we're being taken to the cleaners in the process! We actually thank the moneylenders for giving us the loan and allowing us to indebt ourselves to them – and again, we do so even though this means the moneylenders will own a large chunk of the fruits of our future labor (slavery).

This evil way has replaced God's Way in the economic realm, and has become second nature to our People. Being Biblically illiterate, our People simply don't understand God's just and fair economic system, nor how it would benefit them to follow it. The preachers don't teach it.

Indeed, most Christian churches and ministries are run on debt as well, and have to pass the plate several times per sermon nowadays just to keep the interest on that debt paid up!

So our People haven't so much as a clue as to how God's way works. They're "wise to do evil" (i.e., in the context of this example, they know how to participate with great relish in the debt system of Satan and his children the Kenites), but to "do good" (i.e., in the context of this example, to run the economy God's way) they have no knowledge.

And it's exactly the same today in the religious realm, the political realm and the educational realm, as well. Each of the four realms (political, economic, educational and religious) are being run in accord with the vain religious, political and social traditions of man which bring about confusion and captivity, rather than in accord with God's simple and fair instructions – the Bible – which is the "truth" that "sets you free" (John 8: 32) from the bondage of this present age.

In fact, Christ would later lament that the doctrines of the Kenites (mere traditions of man enshrined as religious doctrine) were being instilled into the minds of His People in place of the Word of God, thereby voiding the Word of God:

Matt 15:6 ... Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

God's way of doing things has taken a back seat to the vain traditions of man. In other words, Satan's way has replaced God's way.

Matt 15:7 Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying,

God's Word told us hundreds of years ago that it would be like this in the final generation. And so it is.

Matt 15:8 -- This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart [i.e., mind] is far from me.

God's children love to shout "Praise the Lord," but they have no knowledge of the ways of the Lord, or the fabulous benefits inherent in following those ways. If they did, they'd institute His ways, rather than the ways and traditions of man. Our Father wants His way to be second nature to us. He wants us to be innocent of the ways of the world -- meaning not caught up in them -- because the ways of the world can only enslave and corrupt us.

Matt 15:9 -- But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

God's children often take great care to go to church and participate in religious activities. But these activities, as religious as they may appear, all too often have nothing to do with God's Word. They're simply empty religious, political and social traditions, instituted by men in place of God's Word. It's called "playing church."

You cannot operate your life in the parameters of the traditions of man, and then expect God to accept your "worship" of Him. He knows the difference between someone who's "playing church," and someone who's truly working hard to arrange their lives in accord with the principles set forth in His Word.

And again, in the book of Mark, Christ would chastise the Kenites on this same subject:

Mark 7:8 -- For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

Mark 7:9 -- And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. (KJV)

The commandments of God end up being replaced by the vain traditions of men. That's why St. Peter would later teach that we are to turn aside from the evil ways (traditions of man) we've picked up over the years, and embrace the "sincere milk" of the Word of God. That's to say, we should return to God's Word for our instruction, and embrace it with the same innocent sincerity of a hungry babe suckling from its mother's breast. As St. Peter taught:

1 Pet 2:1-- Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

Throw the false religious, political and social traditions out. Cast aside the play-acting (i.e., "hypocrisies"). Shun the corrupt practices (i.e., "guile") that constitute so much of Churchianity today.

1 Pet 2:2 -- As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

The word "desire" in the verse above is translated from the Greek word epipotheo (i.e., Strong's G-1971), and it means to "yearn for" or to "intensely crave."

Just as a newborn babe innocently but intensely craves milk from its mother's breast, you should crave the spiritual nourishment of God's Word more so than the supposed "wisdom" offered by the world.

1 Pet 2:3 -- If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.

He's full of grace and favor to those who will follow His Word, casting aside the traditions of man.

1 Pet 2:4 -- To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

Christ Jesus – the Living Word of God – is indeed “disallowed of men.” Their vain religious, political and social traditions just won’t hold up in light of the Word of God, therefore they have cast the Word aside.

But Christ Jesus is the “chosen of God” to bring salvation to the world, and if you want to be restored to that state of spiritual innocence you must follow Him, casting the traditions of man aside.

This means, in this world age when the religious, political and social traditions of man are so deeply ingrained they’ve become the only way of life most people know, you must go against the grain if you’re to please your heavenly Father.

1 Pet 2:5 -- Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

We’re supposed to be the many-membered body of Christ. As such, we’re to have “the mind of Christ” (I Corinthians 26), meaning we’re to become so satiated in God’s Word that we begin to think and act like Him automatically, instead of thinking and acting as the worldly do.

To sum up, spiritual innocence is what is acceptable to God. A babe eagerly and vigorously suckling from its mother’s breast is completely innocent and natural. Likewise, we should be the same in relation to God’s Word. We should crave it, partake of it with the needed intensity, and as we learn His ways and His policies, we should seek to institute them into our lives as our natural way of living.

We cannot practice the ways of the world, and be considered “innocent” to God. In short, the religious, political and social traditions of man, so often practiced by the church today, are not acceptable to God. For example, if you have to put $5 bills under your church pews as a marketing ploy to attract new church attendees, you’re operating outside of God’s Word.

Or if, for example, you’re competing for membership with other churches in your area by trying to see who can have the most church bake sales, the most church car washes, the most church skits and plays, the most “fun” things to do as a church, then once again you’re operating outside of God’s Word. You’re essentially bribing people to come to church so you can pass the plate to them.

And as innocent as these things may sound, the bare fact of the matter is that God does not bribe people to come to His Word. In so doing, you’ve crossed into the domain of the traditions of man. And if you’ve instituted bribery in substitution of drawing God’s children to Him by teaching His Word in its honesty and simplicity, then indeed it’s an evil thing.

God’s Word, properly taught, is quite enough to draw in the crowds. People are spiritually starved today, and if you feed them His Word, in its full truth and simplicity, they'll come back for more. And if they aren't drawn to His Word, then brother, you don't want them. This is what is meant by spiritual innocence: Doing things God's way, without craft or guile or cunning or ulterior motives.

Unfortunately, today, we have all-too-many churches which try to hold their congregations captive by teaching doctrines that are outside of the Word of God, such as telling people that if they'll stick with their church they'll "fly away" in the "rapture" when "Jesus comes at any moment now". Once again, this represents a crossing over from the "sincere milk" of the Word of God (i.e., by completely contradicting II Thessalonians 2;1-4) into the vain religious, political and social traditions of man.

Spiritually speaking, when you're operating in the "sincere milk of the Word" you're considered innocent of sin, and are therefore an heir of eternal life through Christ. But when you're operating chiefly within the vain religious, political and social traditions of man, you're considered by God to be guilty of sin (i.e., falling short of God's Word), and, short of repentance, you've therefore lost your inheritance in Christ.

So, as Christians we're to strive to come to a deeper and more intimate understanding of God's Word, and to put what we learn into practice in our lives, while simultaneously throwing out the vain religious, political and social traditions of man as we learn the difference between the two. In this way, we embrace "the knowledge of good" (i.e., God's Word is "good") without embracing the "evil" Satan has introduced into the world through the vain traditions of man.

The Knowledge of Good and Evil

In short, we lose our spiritual innocence when we allow ourselves to be seduced with the doctrines put forth by the serpent in place of God's Word. The serpent puts forth his doctrine through the vain religious, political and social traditions of man, which means chiefly through his children the Kenites who now control the world system from behind the scenes.

These traditions often sound so good, and so soothing. And that's because they're are all too often a "mix" of good and evil. There's just enough of God's Word involved to make the whole thing sound legitimate. You might call it a "Satan sandwich" – two slices of beautiful white "Bread of Life" on the outside, with a nice big load of Satanic "pork" hidden in between the slices.

Satan loves to sandwich a lie between two truths, and present it to God's children. He twists God's Word, mixing just enough evil in with the good to corrupt those who partake. And because it sounds so good, it soon becomes "traditional." It soon takes the place of God's Word in the minds of His children.

As a quick example, let's take the subject of how we got here. According to God's Word, we were created and placed here on this earth. But according to the vain traditions of man, we evolved from lower life forms. Those two opposing ideas have stood in stark contrast to one another for decades. But now, in the final generation of this flesh age, we have preachers mixing the two ideas, claiming that God created His children on this earth through evolution.

This “mixing” of doctrine has been professed by the Pope, and by many other prominent Christian religious leaders. And it’s a perfect example of the “knowledge of good and evil.” It’s the crafty mixing of God’s Word with the vain religious, political and social traditions of man, to produce a hybrid doctrine that leads you away from the purity and simplicity of God’s Word.

We therefore cannot “know good and evil” and be considered spiritually innocent by God. To be spiritually innocent, you must “desire the sincere milk of the Word, that ye may grow thereby.” That’s to say, you must follow God’s Word in its simplicity, and grow in it through daily study (II Tim. 2:15; Acts 17:11), so that you know the difference between the vain religious, political and social traditions of man and God’s Word, and thereby don’t fall for the “mix” when it’s presented to you.

A Much Deeper Look at “Knowing Good and Evil”: The “Great Work” of Transformation to a “New Way”

With the above-laid foundation in mind, I present the remainder of this study to you, for speculation only. The purpose of the following information is not so much to teach you something new, but instead, to take what you already know, and help you see a wider picture. In other words, it’s to help expand your understanding of the meaning of the phrase “knowing good and evil” to a deeper level.

For the deeper student of God’s Word, the phrase “knowing good and evil,” as used in Genesis chapters two and three, implies more than just a loss of innocence. It strongly implies an intimate knowledge of -- or perhaps better stated, the acquisition of a high degree of skill in -- the use of both good and evil together in order to achieve a desired result.

Interestingly, the word “knowing” in Genesis 3:5 (i.e., from the phrase “knowing good and evil), and the word “knew” in Genesis 4:1 (where, “Adam knew Eve his wife”) are the same Hebrew word. That word is yada, which is Strong’s #H-3045, and it implies careful observation and instruction resulting in a cunning or skillful understanding of a thing.

In Genesis 4:1, the word yada is used as a Hebrew euphemism for a man and woman lying together, that is, two people coming together intimately for the purpose of procreation (i.e., sex). In other words, just as “knowing” one’s wife means that both husband and wife have come together physically for the express purpose of bringing about a pregnancy, so “knowing good and evil” refers to the skillful bringing together -- or mixing together -- of good and evil in order to achieve a desired end result.

In occult alchemical terms, this mixing of “good and evil” is known as “the great work” of Lucifer. It’s a work designed to cast aside God’s way, and create a “new way” as a substitute for God's way – this, just as Satan in his role as the antichrist will come to this earth as the “Messiah of God” in substitution of Christ Jesus, the true Messiah of God. He'll come spouting God's Word, mixed with his own. And the Biblically illiterate will buy into it, because it all sounds so good.

(To learn more about occult “great work” of Satan, and see a glaring and quite prominent example of how it's working in the final days of this flesh earth age, see the Bible study, Lucifer, the Divine Androgyne, Ancient God of the Modern Transgender Movement.)

What's more, the word “knowledge” used in Genesis 2:9, in which Satan is described at the “tree of the knowledge of good and evil” is the Hebrew word da' ath. It's #H-1847 in your Strong's Concordance, and it means “a cunning knowledge.” In other words, it means a deep, skillful understanding of good and evil. Not surprisingly, da' ath is the Hebrew root of the word yada!

So, “knowing good and evil” and having the “knowledge of good and evil” is ultimately the same thing. Let's take a deeper look at what these two phrases are meant to impart to us in terms of God's Word.

As we'll see through the course of this study, “knowing good and evil” has nothing to do with the ability to distinguish good from evil. That, of course, is a very desirable characteristic. But it's not what we're discussing here. To demonstrate this, we'll look at Genesis 3:5 first:

Gen 3:5 -- For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil. (KJV)

Be sure to note that the verse states “knowing good and evil.” It does not state “knowing good from evil.”

Again, this has nothing to do with being able to discern the difference between good and evil. Adam and Eve already knew how to distinguish good from evil, because they knew in advance, before they had partaken of the tree “in the midst of the garden” that they weren't supposed to do so. In fact, the following verses demonstrate that Adam knew this before Eve had been created:

Gen 2:16 -- And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

Gen 2:17 -- But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

Eve was not created until Genesis 2:22, well after the above conversation between God and Adam took place. But Genesis 3:2-3 demonstrates that Adam must have taught Eve that they were not to partake of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for Eve also knew of this law, before she allowed the serpent to seduce her:

Gen 3:2 -- And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

Gen 3:3 -- But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

In short, Adam and Eve already knew right from wrong, good from evil, well before the seduction in the garden occurred. Had they not known, there would have been no sin at all in eating from the tree, for they would have done so in innocence. But they indeed knew better.

So, the phrases “knowledge of good and evil” and “knowing good and evil” must mean something other than simply being able to ascertain the difference between right and wrong, or the difference between good and evil. Adam and Eve clearly already knew the difference between good and evil, right and wrong.

In short, as I’ve pointed out, the phrase “knowing good and evil” is a Hebrew euphemism referring to the skillful use of both good and evil in order to achieve a very specific result.

Ultimately, that result is the overthrow of God’s way on this earth, and in heaven as well, bring about the damnation of God’s children. That’s Satan’s plan. He knows He can’t physically harm God. He can’t conquer God. But if he can lead God’s children in outright rebellion against God’s way, by instituting a “new way” that’s widely publicly accepted and enforced through political correctness, then God will have to destroy His own children at the end of this flesh earth age.

You see, Satan sold Adam and Eve a real bill of goods. He told them that in order to be “as gods” (i.e., elohim in the Hebrew, meaning the angels in heaven) they’d have to learn how to skillfully mix good and evil together.

He didn’t promise them that they would know the difference between good and evil. They already knew that. Instead, he seduced them into believing that God was holding something back from them, and that what He was holding back was the secret formula, so to speak, for becoming “as gods.”

The serpent promised Eve (falsely, of course) that if only she and her husband would listen to him, and do as he said, they’d become as knowledgeable as the angels in heaven, knowing (being supremely skillful in) both good and evil.

Synthesis of Good and Evil

To understand this fully, we must go back to the first earth age, where Satan set in place his world system, which ultimately drew one-third of God’s children to himself and away from God, as described in Revelation 12:4.

We can speculate (and Scripture will back the speculation) that in the “world that then was” Satan introduced a synthesis of good and evil, which allowed him to manipulate the world system to his own personal benefit, and to the benefit of his followers.

As you’ll see in just a moment, the same plan is still in effect today, through the hidden control held by Satan’s children, the Kenites, over the four hidden dynasties of politics, economics, education and religion. In fact, this same formula, today, is being used to bring about the New World Order of this final generation – the false kingdom of “heaven on earth” that will ultimately be led by Satan himself in his role as the false Messiah.

But as you’ll see by the time this study is concluded, his scheme just won’t fly in the end. It will collapse of its own weight (deceit), for you cannot mix good and evil, truths and lies, and achieve stability. Only God’s policies, and God’s policies alone, bring stability.

But before we go to back to the Scriptures to take a look at Satan’s grand scheme in the first age, and to see what it had to do with the “knowledge of good and evil,” let’s first work to gain a better understanding of the definitions of the words “good” and “evil” as they’re used in Genesis 2:9 and 3:5:

good = 2896 towb (tobe);

KJV-- beautiful, best, better, bountiful, cheerful, at ease, X fair (word), (be in) favour, fine, glad, good (deed, -lier, -liest, -ly, -ness, -s), graciously, joyful, kindly, kindness, liketh (best), loving, merry, X most, pleasant, + pleaseth, pleasure, precious, prosperity, ready, sweet, wealth, welfare, (be) well ([-favoured]).

evil = 7451 ra` (rah);

KJV-- adversity, affliction, bad, calamity, + displeasure (-ure), distress, evil ([-favouredness], man, thing), + exceedingly, X great, grief (-vous), harm, heavy, hurt (-ful), ill (favoured), + mark, mischief (-vous), misery, naught (-ty), noisome, + not please, sad (-ly), sore, sorrow, trouble, vex, wicked (-ly, -ness, one), worse (-st), wretchedness, wrong. [Incl. feminine ra` ah; as adjective or noun.].

Now, keep in mind that before the seduction in the garden, Adam and Eve were living in an idyllic state. Everything was perfectly peaceful, bountiful, and beautiful. There was no evil, no calamity, no pain or sorrow.

This is the state of being that YHVH intended for them. They lived in tune with God’s Word, and were therefore “innocent” as babes. They knew the difference between right and wrong. But they had not known good and evil, which is to say, they had not been taught how to skillfully mix good and evil together to achieve a desired result.

But Satan seduced them into believing that to be “as gods” -- that is, to be as the angels in heaven

-- they would have to learn how to skillfully mix good and evil together.

As you can see, these words mean more than just “good” and “evil.” For example, the Strong’s Concordance shows us that the word “good” means bounty, beauty, prosperity, wealth, pleasure. That’s precisely the state of being that Adam and Eve lived in before the seduction in the garden took place.

And the word “evil” means adversity, affliction, bad, calamity, displeasure, distress, etc. As you know, that’s the state of being that was brought about after Adam and Eve partook of Satan’s evil doctrine, when they were unceremoniously dismissed from the garden by God.

What Satan taught them was that to be as the angels -- i.e., “Ye shall be as gods” -- they’d have to learn how to mix good and evil...peace and adversity...cheer and calamity... pleasure and distress...bounty and emptiness...God’s doctrine and Satan’s doctrine.

Illustration from the so-called "Book of the Holy Trinity," a 15th century tome which mixes Christian doctrine with occult alchemical principles. Here we see the principle of the so-called “alchemy angel” and “alchemy demon” becoming one with each other, symbolizing the blending of the knowledge of good and evil into a “new way.”

In short, Satan preached that a mixture of “good” and “evil” would, in the end, create a synergy or synthesis which would lead to “oneness” among mankind and the angels and God. It’s much the same again today, in the final days of this earth age, as that siren call to “oneness” goes out across the globe.

Diverse and completely incompatible cultures, for example, are being merged. Diverse and completely incompatible political doctrines are being merged. Diverse and completely incompatible religions are being merged. Even men and women are being “merged” through the abominable practice of transgenderism, also known as androgyny.

And through scientific techniques like genetic manipulation, even fruits and vegetables are being mixed and merged...insect and animal genes are being genetically inserted in plant genes...and much, much more.

In essence, in Genesis Satan was teaching Adam and Eve a formula for establishing a “new way” -- a political and religious system on earth of his own making which was outside of the idyllic state of being that our heavenly Father had set in order for Adam and Eve.

This is the same system Satan taught the angels of God to institute in the first age. This is, in fact, how the angels came to “know” (i.e., skillful, intimate, cunning knowledge) both good and evil (i.e., Genesis 3:22). It’s Satan’s main teaching.

But it’s an empty substitute for the “oneness” between God and His children that can only be achieved through one’s embrace of the redemptive act on the cross of Christ Jesus, coupled with the work of the Holy Spirit within the many-membered body of Christ.

Technically speaking, Satan was not lying to Adam and Eve. He would teach them how to be “as gods” – that is, as the angels of heaven. How? By teaching them the skills for instituting the same world system he taught the angels to institute in the first age.

In other words, keeping in mind that the definition of spiritual innocence is to do things God’s way by one’s very nature, Satan sought to rob Adam and Eve of their spiritual innocence by teaching them how to mix two distinct ways together – God’s way and Satan’s way -- in order to create a synthesis of the two.

What’s more, this is the exact same system Satan has instituted on this earth today, through the influence of his children the Kenites. A mix of good (peace; bounty) and evil (calamity; loss). In fact, through the vain traditions of man Satan teaches that calamity (i.e., “evil”) must be forcibly induced into the world system, in order for his twisted version of “good” to arise out of it.

This is the exact opposite of the idyllic state YHVH created for Adam and Eve. And in adopting Satan's methodology, the idyllic state YHVH created for mankind was lost. Let’s look for just a moment at Satan’s system in the first earth age, and see if we can discern how he’s instituted that same hybrid system today:

Ezek 28:15 -- Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

In the beginning, Satan was perfect in his ways. That is, he lived and taught God’s Word sincerely and truthfully. But then, iniquity (perverseness; unjustness) was found in him. He began to distort God’s Word. He began to teach a system in which, by adding in a little calamity or adversity here or there, you could take advantage of the fluctuations that were induced. You could increase your own gain by creating disruptions (evil; calamity) and then taking advantage of those disruptions.

Ezek 28:16 -- By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

The word “merchandise” means “trade” (see Strong’s H-7404), as in conducting big business. The word “violence” in the verse above should be translated “unjust gain” to correctly fit the context of the verse (see Strong’s H-2555).

Yes, Satan instituted a world trade system (i.e., “by the multitude of thy merchandise”), which allowed him to fill his treasury with unjust gain. Sounds a lot like the world system of today, doesn’t it? That’s because it is. It’s Satan’s system being implemented, piece by piece, mixed together with God’s system, to create a “new way.”

Furthermore, the phrase “thou hast sinned” in the verse above should be translated “thou has led astray” (Strong’s H-2398) to properly fit the context of the verse. Indeed, Satan led one-third of God’s children astray (Rev. 12:4). That is, he led them into adopting a system that operated outside of the constraints of Father’s perfectly fair and just system.

Rather than teaching God’s children how to live within Father’s completely stable world system, in which everyone had plenty and no one lacked for any need, Satan drew them into a world system in which disruptions (i.e., evil; calamity) were purposely introduced in order to create instabilities that could be taken advantage of financially.

In other words, Satan showed his followers how to accrue unjust gain, simply by introducing a little evil (calamity; disruption) into the system, here and there. So if you want to know what it was like in the world that was, just take a look at today’s world, for they’re virtually the same in nature.

As an example, consider the modern-day financial system, which is totally dominated by Satan’s children the Kenites. In this system, money always flows away from unstable areas and into stable areas. Or perhaps better stated, money always flows away from unstable markets and into stable markets. This is a simple financial truth.

So, to create unjust wealth for yourself, you simply choose a market where there’s plenty of wealth being enjoyed by the multitudes, and then you induce a little calamity (evil) into that market, using agents you have set in place to do so.

The calamity then causes fear and instability in that market, which in turn causes the wealth to flow out of the destabilized market, and into a more stable market. The Kenites of course, have pre-positioned themselves in the stable markets, so that the flow of money comes to them.

In short, by inducing calamity in one market, and positioning yourself in advance in a stable market, you ensure that the wealth flows to you. And when you have “cleaned up” financially from that little market disruption, you can cause another disruption somewhere else in the world, and repeat the process. It works every time! Satan’s children, who control the economic dynasty of this earth, do it all of the time.

We can ascertain from Ezekiel 28:16 above, and Ezekiel 28:17 below that Satan did the same thing in the world that was. He introduced into Father’s perfect and just and stable world order an unjust way of manipulating the system to generate personal gain. He “sinned,” that is, he led God’s children astray by introducing a system which mixed good (stability and bounty) with evil (instability and loss), in order to create opportunities for unjust gain.

Using today's economic system as our example again, you can ascertain even more details about how this system of good and evil worked in the first earth age under Satan. For you see, Satan's children the Kenites have not only used this methodology to draw much of the wealth of the world into their own coffers (i.e., "filled the midst of thee with unjust gain"), they've also instituted a system in which they lend the money back to those whom they have robbed, but at high interest rates.

Of course, as we discussed earlier in this study, the Kenites lend this money at high interest rates (usury), so that God's unwitting children are chronically financially indebted to them. In this way, the Kenites now not only own much of the wealth that once belonged to God's children, but they own their future production of wealth, as well. You work for a living. But they own the fruits of your labor, because you owe it to them. Brilliant indeed!

Ezek 28:17 -- Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

In other words, Satan became haughty and arrogant and prideful (i.e., "thine heart was lifted up") because of his beauty (i.e., his brightness or mental brilliance). He corrupted (i.e., the text reads "cast off" in the original Hebrew) the wisdom Father had originally blessed him with, in exchange for this new way of doing things.

He became caught up in his own splendor, losing focus on God and His way. And for this reason, Father promised to bring him down hard in the sight of all of the rulers of the people (i.e., "I will lay thee before kings"). In other words, our Father has promised to make a stunning example of Satan, in the end. And so He will.

Ezek 28:18 -- Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.

Satan not only corrupted the political/economic realms in the first earth age by introducing his new way – his synthesis -- but he corrupted the religious/educational realms as well (i.e., "thou has defiled thy sanctuaries"). Clearly, he turned the sanctuaries into money-making operations, just as the Pharisees would do later in the time of Christ.

The abundance of his crooked dealings (i.e., "the multitude of thine iniquities") in all four of these realms – known today as the four hidden dynasties of politics, economics, education and religion -- caused our heavenly Father to pronounce the death sentence upon him.

In the eternity, Father simply will not allow anyone to teach His children to prosper through unjust means. Nor will He allow His children to be taken advantage of any longer. The skillful mixing of good and evil is unacceptable to our heavenly Father. It's contrary to His perfectly fair and just way of life.

You see, in Satan's system, every time someone prospers, someone else must lose out. If you're not "positioned on the right side of the market," so to speak, you're the loser. And it's always Satan's children who are positioned on the right side of the market.

This is why a measly 1% of the population today controls some two-thirds of the wealth. After all, when you're the one introducing the calamity into the markets, you always know what's going to happen next, and into which markets the money will be flowing. It's all pre-planned and executed with great brilliance by Satan and his children.

Why Does God Allow It?

But Father has allowed Satan to once again institute his system of both good and evil, in this flesh earth age, so that His children can choose which way they want to go. They can follow God and His just and fair policies, and be spiritually innocent. Or they can follow Satan and his policy of synthesis of opposites – good and evil mixed together into a "new way," which is the way of corruption and death. As the Scripture states:

Deut 30:19 -- I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live:

God has set before us His simple and just way of truth, as well as Satan's way of deception, which is the synthesis of good and evil. We can embrace the "sincere milk" of His Word, or we can embrace that corrupt synthesis of good and evil that has become the traditional way of these end days.

Deut 30:20 -- That thou mayest love the LORD thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days: that thou mayest dwell in the land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them. (KJV)

God's way is the only way which leads to life eternal. There is no "other" way to life eternal. Can you now begin to see why our heavenly Father told Adam and Eve not to partake of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, but instead, to stick with the Tree of Life alone?

Yes, by listening to Satan they would become "as gods, knowing good and evil." That is to say, they'd become exactly as the angels had become in the first earth age, knowing how to skillfully mix good and evil together into a synthesis that ultimately brought about the destruction of that entire age, just as it will ultimately bring about the destruction of this flesh earth age, for Father will not allow this corruption to stand any longer than His Plan to save His children allows.

That's why, after Adam and Eve's sin in the garden, God's Word states:

Gen 3:22 -- And the LORD God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever:

Indeed, Adam and Eve had become "as gods" after listening to Satan, which is to say, through their experience with Satan in the garden, Adam and Eve then possessed the very same knowledge the angels possessed from the first earth age – they knowledge of synthesis of good and evil which leads to loss of innocence. Eve even held the fruit of that synthesis in her very womb.

When God created Adam and Eve, and placed them in the garden, they didn't have this "knowledge of good and evil." They were created innocent of it. Indeed, we're all born into the flesh completely innocent of the knowledge of what happened in the first earth age, so that we can make up our minds afresh whether to follow God's Word, or follow Satan's word through the vain traditions of man.

Yes, Adam and Eve were completely innocent. They ran through the garden "naked and unashamed" (i.e., Genesis 2:25), meaning they were innocent of cunning and guile...they had no knowledge of how to mix God's Word with Satan's word, and God's ways with Satan's ways. Therefore they had nothing to be ashamed of. Operating outside of God's Word was not "second nature" to them, as it is to all too many of God's children today, including most churches.

Spiritually speaking, Adam and Eve were much like little babies that innocently and naturally reach for their mother's breasts in order to satisfy their hunger, as opposed to someone who cunningly schemes how to rip off their fellow man in order to satisfy their hunger for unjust gain.

The skillful understanding of how to mix good and evil was simply not part of Adam and Eve's makeup, until they listened to Satan. Adam and Eve knew the difference between right and wrong, for they knew in advance not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. But they had not been instructed in Satan's way, the way of combining good and evil together, which is what constitutes so many of the worthless but popular religious, political and social traditions of man of today.

The "Rebis" in this ancient pictograph is said to be the "end product of the alchemical 'magnum opus' or great work of synergy. After one has gone through the stages of putrefaction and purification, separating opposing qualities, those qualities are then united once more in what is often described as the "divine hermaphrodite" or "divine androgyne," said to be a "reconciliation of spirit and matter," a being of both male and female qualities as indicated by the male and female head within a single body. Note in this ancient occult drawing that the he-she androgyne stands upon the dragon (Lucifer) for support, which in turn holds the world in its claws. Note also the Masonic compass and square in the hands of the "divine androgyne."

Consider, for example, how the modern Christian church unwittingly mixes the pagan “holy day” of Ishtar (i.e., Easter) with the high, holy day of Christianity, the Passover, in order to create a new “holy day” in which Christ has more and more to do with Easter eggs and bunnies (ancient symbols of sexual fertility and sexual proclivity) and less and less to do with the redemptive work of the Passover Lamb. That’s part of Lucifer’s alchemical “great work,” his synergy between good and evil which is designed to estrange God’s children from their heavenly Father and His eternal household.

In short, Adam and Eve lost their spiritual innocence by becoming “knowing” of Satan’s way, i.e., skilled in the mixing of both good and evil. In Adam and Eve’s case, this “mixing” ended up in the birth of a son named Cain – a murderer who, for all practical purposes, might as well be called the first antichrist, for all of his offspring to this very day are known as antichrists (John 2:18).

In this state, Adam and Eve’s spiritual innocence was over. God could not allow them to “take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever.” That is to say, He could not allow them to have eternal life at that point, for they would enter into eternal life having been thoroughly corrupted by Satan’s “mixing” of ways.

You see, you cannot enter into eternal life in a corrupted state. You can only do so in a clean, innocent state. That’s why St. Paul would later teach in 1 Corinthians 15:50, “Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.”

To inherit incorruption, that is to say to inherit eternal life, you have to be innocent and clean of wrong-doing, like a little child. This is why, four thousand years after Adam and Eve’s downfall, our heavenly Father would send Christ Jesus to this earth to give His life for our sins, so that upon repentance of the vain religious, political and social traditions of man which corrupt us and cause sin, and through the embracing of His Word in its simplicity and truth, we could be restored to that state of spiritual innocence through the shed blood of the Lamb of God.

But in Adam and Eve’s day, it was not yet time for that blessed event to occur. Therefore, God booted Adam and Eve out of the garden, as the Scripture continues:

Gen 3:23 -- Therefore the LORD God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken.

Gen 3:24 -- So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life. (KJV)

And so it would be that the “way of the tree of life” would be preserved until the time came for Christ to give His life for our sins. Christ’s death and subsequent resurrection would, in turn, remove the separation between God and man for those who would convert, and humble themselves, and come to Him through the shed blood of Jesus Christ (II Corinthians 3:16; Hebrews 4:16).

Even Adam and Eve would have an opportunity to be restored through Christ Jesus, for as St. Peter taught in I Peter 3:18-20, after the resurrection Christ offered His salvation to the “spirits in prison” i.e., even those all of the way back to the “days of Noah,” meaning the generation which lived from Adam’s time to Noah’s time.

Unjust Balances: an Abomination to God

In the context of this study, it’s important to understand that Satan’s system mixes good and evil in many ways. And in doing so, it allows those who are skillful at manipulation to enrich their selves at the expense of everybody else. Father will not stand for a system of such arrogant manipulation and “unjust balances” much longer.

As the Scriptures state in this regard:

Proverbs 11:1 -- A false balance is abomination to the LORD: but a just weight is his delight.

A “false balance” is one in which you do not get a fair portion for what you pay out. In other words, someone has rigged the scale, and you’re not getting everything you paid for because of it. But a “just weight” means that you are getting a fair portion for what you pay out.

In Satan’s system of the mixing of good and evil, the scales have been rigged, and you end up shortchanged in the end. In God’s system, you always get what you pay for, or what you deserve for your work on His behalf. Everything is fair and just and balanced and therefore completely stable. You can count on it. Whether in the political realm, the economic realm, the social realm or the religious realm, God will simply not tolerate a “false balance” for long. You cannot mix Satan’s way together with God’s way and be found pleasing to God.

Is it any wonder then, that in relation to God’s coming destruction of this flesh age, the Scripture in II Peter 3:10 says, “But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

Both heaven and earth have been corrupted through this mixing of good and evil which Satan started in the first age. And Father is going to cleanse it all, with fire, before ushering in the millennium teaching period followed by the eternity.

Proverbs 16:11 -- A just weight and balance are the LORD's: all the weights of the bag are his work.

God's way is just and fair to everyone. It's completely stable and balanced. There are no disruptions that bring pain, suffering and adversity. Nor is anyone allowed to create pain, suffering or adversity for others, and then profit from it. Crafty manipulations are simply not allowed. The purity and simplicity of His truth is the only way He will tolerate.

Proverbs 20:23 -- Divers weights are an abomination unto the LORD; and a false balance is not good.

Once things start getting out of balance, our heavenly Father gets very angry. The phrase "divers weights" means that someone is monkeying around with the system, for their own personal gain. It means when you sell something to the merchants of this earth, you have to make sure you give them a full portion for the money you're charging. Buy when you buy something from them, out come the false weights and you end up short-changed for your money. You don't get a full portion. That is, they're rigging the system so that they're enriched and empowered, while the rest of God's children get the short end of the stick.

Again, a "false balance" means the people are not getting full value for their money or their efforts. This happens in all four dynasties of Satan's kingdom, i.e., the political, religious, economic and educational dynasties. It's Satan's way of making power and riches flow to his children and those who choose to follow them (whether wittingly or unwittingly).

But the teeming masses don't even realize that this is how things work in Satan's system. They place bumper stickers on their cars which read: "S--t happens." That's the only way they can explain why there are so many disruptions and distortions in the world that always leave them holding the short end of the stick.

Even in the churches, the people are shortchanged, for example, being taught baptism and salvation over and over again for years and even decades on end, and never learning the deeper truths to be found in God's Word. Instead of the deeper truths, religious, political and social traditions are taught, instead. So the foundational aspects of God's Word – salvation through Christ – are taught, but they're taught side-by-side with doctrine that has nothing to do with God's Word. It's a mix that short-changes everyone, and in the end, beloved, it simply will not stand.

If only Christians took the time to become acquainted with their Father's Word, they would then understand that mixing good and evil...conservatism and liberalism...capitalism and communism...humanism and spirituality...Christianity and the religious traditions of man... God's way and Satan's way...can only bring about a system in which everyone loses out except for the few who have rigged the system from the beginning.

I can remember years ago reading a news article on the national wire services that explained how Red China's then-recent entry into the World Trade Organization was causing consternation and upheaval among the Chinese people as China sought to "balance market forces (i.e., capitalism) with communist ideology." In other words, the Chinese know that to be major players in the emerging world system, they have to mix two opposing ideologies in order to succeed.

This, again, is the Satanic formula for "success." It's what Satan seduced Adam and Eve with. "Ye shall be as gods." In other words, he told them that if only they would implement his formula of mixing good and evil to achieve a new synergy between the two, they'd be able to become like the angels in the first earth age, rulers of their own destinies and architects of the world system.

And so it is today. But as we shall see, as it ended in disaster in the first earth age, so again it shall all end in disaster for Satan and those who follow his system in this present flesh earth age.

Unfortunately, here in the U.S., and throughout Europe, the same thing has been happening for decades. Socialist ideals are being gradually mixed together with capitalist ideals in order to create a synergy between the countries of the world that will bring about a "New World Order."

Today, this "mix" is often referred to by its adherents as the "Third Way." Politically speaking, capitalism is the first way. Communism/socialism is the second way. And the "third way" is the mix between the two. It's this "Third Way" that all too many of our politicians – including many so-called "conservatives" -- have now embraced.

An alchemical symbol of the transmutation of base metal (earth at bottom) into gold (sun) and silver (moon) through the agency of the dragon, symbolically representing the so-called "great work" (or "magnum opus") of alchemical synergy through the embrace of the supposedly unifying principles of the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, resulting in a "new way" on the earth. This is a vain substitution for the unity of God's children that can only take place through embrace of the redemptive act of Christ Jesus on the cross at Calvary and the subsequent work of the Holy Spirit in the lives of Christians resulting in the eternal "oneness" or spiritual marriage bond between God and His children (Depiction from Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum Elias Ashmole ca. 1652)

The same “mix” of doctrines occurs in the religious realm. For example, in a recent World Economic Conference, one of the panels headed by world leaders was on the topic of “How to Achieve a Synergy Between Christianity, Judaism and Islam, in Order to Help Bring About World Peace Through Religion.”

To do so, the adherents of Christianity, Judaism and Islam will have to be convinced that they all worship the same “God” and therefore must “come together” (i.e., mix doctrines) on that “common ground” for the “good of mankind.”

The mixing of three separate and distinct religious doctrines to achieve a “synergy” for the benefit of all mankind represents Satan’s game plan in a nutshell. Indeed, it’s through this mixing of distinct and opposing doctrines that the occult so-called “great work” of Lucifer – the synergy between opposites -- is now being established worldwide.

How the Synergy Between Good and Evil Brings About Spiritual Calamity

Similarly, as these end days grow to a close, the doctrine of Christianity becomes more and more mixed with the traditions of man, in particular with the doctrines of "Judaism". So much so in these end days, that both opposing religions now await the very same messiah i.e., the "any moment now" messiah, which is Satan himself.

Yes, both religions are polar opposite to each other. One hates Christ. One loves Him. Yet through religious tradition they both believe their Messiah can arrive “at any moment now.” Think about it: The adherents of so-called Judaism hate, loath and despise Jesus Christ. They openly teach in their Talmud that He was the “bastard son of a Jewish whore.” Yet both Judaism and Christianity now await the same “any moment now” messiah to return to Jerusalem. How can this be? It’s because the two opposing religions are being gradually merged in spite of the vast chasm of differences between them. They are becoming “one” through the synergy brought about by religious tradition.

For those who understand that Satan returns to this earth before Christ Jesus, arriving at Jerusalem and pretending to be “God” (II Thessalonians 2:1-4), the problem with this teaching becomes clear. It contains the Word of God, in so much as it states truthfully that the Messiah will return to Jerusalem. And so He will, as we know from Zechariah 14:4 and many other Scriptures. But in stating that the Messiah can come “at any moment now,” a tradition of man is subtly mixed in with that precious Biblical truth. And in so doing, our People are led to worship the very same “messiah” the Christ-hating adherents of Judaism are awaiting – the “messiah” who arrives to Jerusalem before Christ arrives, pretending to be “God.”

And so, by means of this doctrinal “mix,” the vast majority of Christianity will be deceived. The mixing of God’s Word with the vain traditions of man once again results in corruption. God’s People end up in bed, spiritually speaking, with the false Christ. (Learn more in the Bible study, The Christian Church in Apostasy.)

That's why our heavenly Father is quite emphatic about not mixing His Word with any other doctrine, and not mixing His children with the children of Satan. You cannot mix "good" and "evil" without disastrous results in the end.

As it's written, our heavenly Father does not want to find us "unequally yoked together" with the Judaic unbelievers:

2 Corinthians 6:14 -- Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

The phrase "unequally yoked together" means "joined (or coupled, i.e., mixed) together differently." It refers specifically to the joining of opposites – in this case, believers in Christ being joined together with Judaic unbelievers in Christ.

You can't mix those two opposite positions, and expect good to come out of it. It causes spiritual conflict and upset. "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other." (Matthew 6:24).

The "unbelievers" mentioned in the verse above are those such as the Kenites who do not believe in Christ Jesus as the Messiah of God, and, in fact, hate, loathe and despise Him. In this verse, St. Paul asks what communion (i.e., intermixing) should the children of Light have with the children of darkness? The answer is simple: None. You cannot mix righteousness and unrighteousness, and end up with stability and order. It will only result in chaos, ultimately.

Satan's system of mixing good (i.e., truth, prosperity, peace, bounty, joy, pleasure) with evil (i.e., deception, calamity, affliction, adversity, distress) is diametrically opposed to God's Word and His completely just and fair system. Satan's system creates whipsaws and disruptions which his children the Kenites use in order to manipulate and take advantage of God's children. But God has an idyllic state of being planned for us (i.e., life in His eternal family household), which we simply cannot achieve through the mixing of good and evil. His Word will not mix with Satan's.

2 Corinthians 6:15 -- And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

What can you find in common between Christ and the antichrist? What things of Christ can you mix together with the things of antichrist, and achieve something good? The answer, again, is: nothing. Christ seeks to re-establish His children to their former idyllic state (meaning to restore their inheritance of eternal life). Satan seeks to steal that inheritance for his own children, through his unjust system, and overthrow all that is good in the process. You cannot mix the two.

2 Corinthians 6:16 -- And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

You cannot have God dwelling within you through the power of the Holy Spirit, and embrace the idolatrous things of this earth age simultaneously. It's an incompatible mix. You cannot embrace God's Word, and the religious, political and social traditions of man, and expect anything good from the mix. It just won't fly.

2 Corinthians 6:17 -- Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you,

The occult, alchemical so-called "World Tree" (i.e., the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil of Genesis 2:9). In alchemical practice, polar opposites such as male and female, light and darkness, internal and external, are united, representing the reconciliation of opposing principles, ultimately resulting in a union between humans and "God" which mystics and alchemists have striven for. This is a vain substitute for the eternal union between our heavenly Father and His children through the redeeming power of Christ Jesus and the unifying work of the Holy Spirit within the many-membered body of Christ. (Depiction from the alchemical book Anatomia Auri by J.D. Mylius, 1628)

Those are our marching orders. We're not to "touch" (Gen. 3:3) the unclean thing i.e., we're to refrain from embracing Satan's plan for synergy between all things, good and evil alike. It's called the abomination of desolation. And we're to be as completely separate from it as we can manage. We're to come out from among those who seek to establish their own version of "heaven on earth" by mixing good with evil...prosperity with distress...Satan's children with God's children...religious traditions of man with God's Word...etc. After all, it's a system designed to overthrow all that's good, and replace it with one that thoroughly mixed with evil.

As I've repeatedly stated, it's a system designed to cause God's children to lose their inheritance with God. Yes, it's the Satanic system of "knowing good and evil."

2 Corinthians 6:18 -- And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

By living Father's way, and by staying separate from those who mix evil with good, we'll ultimately be restored through Christ Jesus to the idyllic state of being Father originally intended for us. In other words, we'll inherit eternal life.

Of course, in this flesh we all fall far short of that goal. But that's why Christ gave His life on the cross. Through sincere repentance, we can be restored to favor in our Father's eyes in spite of our many shortcomings.

Unfortunately, all too many of God's children have fallen completely for the system of mixing good with evil, traditions of man with religion, communism with capitalism, Judaism with Christianity, and much more. And for most of them, it will take the Millennium teaching period to turn them around, if at all.

Christ would later teach that we're not to allow the leaven (doctrine) of the Pharisees to be mixed into our own knowledge of God's Word (Mt. 16:6-12). Why? Because, as St. Paul would explain, "A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump" (I Cor 5:5-11).

In other words, once you allow the mix between "evil" and "good" to take place, the "evil" part will spread throughout the mix like leaven spreads through bread, until there is no "good" left, or the "good" becomes unrecognizable as such.

Again, that is Satan's plan for this earth age, in a nutshell. It promises heaven on earth. But it simply cannot deliver. In fact, it never intended to deliver. Pure and simple, it's Satan's grand plan to take down as many of God's children as possible, by mixing good and evil to the point that the two terms begin to lose their meaning altogether, and confusion reigns as a result leaving God's children estranged from Him.

And that's why God forbade Adam and Eve to partake of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Our heavenly Father knew that once we fell into the trap of allowing "good" and "evil" to be mixed together, the evil would spread unchecked like leaven through a loaf (i.e., this world). Indeed, "a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump."

Finally, let's take a quick look at what happened when Adam and Eve bought into Satan's methodology for mixing good and evil. Did it bring about the desired state through which they would live forever "as gods, knowing good and evil" as he had promised them?

Gen 3:17 -- And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life;

God essentially told Adam, "Because you listened to your wife, and embraced this idea of mixing of good with evil, you're going to suffer the consequences thereof."

Gen 3:18 -- Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field;

The consequences of their actions would be hardship and suffering. On the spiritual level, Satan's little children – the offspring of Cain who love to pretend they're "God's chosen people, the Jews" (Rev. 2:9 and 3:9) -- would become thorns and thistles in our sides throughout this earth age.

Gen 3:19 -- In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.

In short, the mixing of good and evil brought about despair, sorrow, hard labor...and, yes...death.

That's the lesson for us, as faithful Christians. Adam and Eve went from a perfectly idyllic state into one of disruption and confusion and ultimately death. You cannot mix good with evil and get good results. "A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump."

This is why, in the book of Leviticus, Father warned us not to mix "kinds." As the Scripture states:

Leviticus 19:19 -- Ye shall keep my statutes. Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind: thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed: neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee.

Let's examine on the deeper spiritual level these three specific admonitions from our heavenly Father:

- 1.) "Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind." On the physical level, this means we're not to indiscriminately hybridize one form of livestock with another, because in the end it will produce a sterile, mutated, blemished or otherwise abnormal herd. As a result, the long-term growth of the entire herd will suffer dramatically, or even die out altogether. This is a simple, natural phenomenon. On the spiritual level, this means that we are not to hybridize Christianity. Members of the Body of Christ are not to mix, for purposes of spiritual union, with members of other religious bodies. You cannot form a congregation by co-mingling members of "the synagogue of Satan" (Revelation 2:9 and 3:9) with members of the Body of Christ and still maintain eternal life in that congregation. The mix will produce spiritual abnormalities and mutations that will destroy the spiritual growth of the "herd," that is to say, the congregation. On another level: The members of the House of True Israel are to stick with the Word of God, and not mix spiritually with the House of Cain and its unrighteous doctrine, if we're to be counted as God's sons and daughters, which is to say the family of God or many-membered body of Christ.
- 2.) "Thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed." On the physical level, this means we're not to sow the same field with a variety of different crops, because the resulting adulteration allows for cross-pollination which weakens the entire field of crop, dilutes the nutritional value of the food it produces, and greatly diminishes the harvest. Because of this, Father's agricultural laws specify that each type of crop is to have its own separate field. On the spiritual level, the admonition means this: We're not to sow the fertile soil of our minds with a mixed bag of spiritual doctrines ("mingled seed"). Instead, we're to sow the one seed (i.e., the Word of God) into our mind that produces the strongest crop. The pure, unmingled (unadulterated) Word of God sown into your mind will continue to grow and grow and grow, meaning God's Word continues to open up to you day after day, producing a bountiful harvest of "wheat" (i.e., symbolic of the knowledge of the Bread of Life) that will literally sustain you forever. But "mingling seed" (i.e., mixing doctrine) within the fertile soil of your mind will spiritually dilute your understanding of God's Word, stifle your spiritual growth, and result in a diminished harvest, which is to say that come harvest time, you will be found unacceptable to the Lord.

- 3.) “Neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee.” On the physical level, garments made of a single fabric have inherent strength and durability. Mixing fabrics may allow us to produce clothing less expensively, but in the long run doing so produces weakness and instability in the fabric itself. The end result is a fabric that cannot withstand the rigors of daily living for very long (witness modern day fabric “blends” designed to wear out just in time for the advent of the next fashion season). Similarly, your spiritual covering had better not be of mixed fabric either. Instead, it must be made solely of the Word of God. You cannot mix the religious traditions of man with the Word of God (which is representative of “a garment mingled of linen and woollen”), and consider it a durable covering, for it will not hold together for long. Something will give. In other words, your spiritual covering had better be the “fine linen, clean and white” of Revelation 19:8 (i.e., representative of your righteousness in Christ), and not the “garment spotted by the flesh” of Jude 1:23 (i.e., representative of the empty religious traditions of man).

Taking #3 above to the deeper level, it’s important to understand that the high priest of Israel always wore linen garments when he did service before God in the Holy Place. These linen garments were called the “Holy garments.” (Leviticus 16:3-4). But the high priest always switched to woolen garments when carrying out his duties outside of the Holy Place, and in the presence of the congregation (Leviticus 6:11; 16:23-24).

The linen garments, of course, represent Christ’s righteousness and purity. And the woolen garments represent the common or profane nature of man. You cannot mix the two. They must remain completely separate.

You can better understand why by going to the 44th chapter of the book of Ezekiel, which tells us that during the millennium the Zadok will wear “linen garments” while ministering before the Lord in the inner court of the Temple, and that “no wool shall come upon them” while doing so (Ezekiel 44:17-18).

However, when one of the Zadok priests goes forth from the inner court and “into the outer court unto the people” – that is to say, unto those considered to be “spiritually dead” because they did not overcome antichrist and make it into the first resurrection – he must first take off his linen garments and put on other (i.e., the woolen) garments.

Why? It’s because, as the Scripture states, “they shall not sanctify the people with their [linen] garments” (Ezekiel 44:19). In other words, the only way to stand before the Lord in His dwelling place is in the purity and righteousness of His Word. You must be in the righteousness of Christ. No “wool” or common nature of man can be upon you when ministering before Him. You must be covered solely in Christ’s righteousness, a “garment” that you earned through your faith in His Word and your resulting righteous works, or you would not be standing before Him in the first place at that point.

But when you step away from His dwelling place to go back out into the world to minister unto the spiritually dead multitudes, you cannot sanctify them (i.e., make them morally clean) with your priest's garments. In other words, you cannot give them the righteousness you earned in Christ, because they have to earn it for themselves through their faith in Christ and the resulting works based upon that faith, just like you did.

And because they didn't overcome Satan before Christ's second advent, they can only earn their "linen garments" at the end of the millennium when they're tested one final time at Satan's release from the pit for that "short season" (Revelation 20:3). They must overcome Satan for themselves, "by the blood of the lamb, and the word of their testimony," just like you did (Revelation 12:11), in order to earn their "linen garments."

In short, your righteous acts through faith in His Word are your "linen garments." You cannot take these outside of the presence of the Lord and give them to someone who did not earn them. However, you can approach them on the same level they are on (i.e., which is what wearing "woolen garments" in their presence symbolizes) and teach them the "difference between the holy and the profane" (Ezekiel 44:23) so that they too can overcome Satan through God's Word when it is their time.

Finally, it is important to understand from all of this that you could not have earned your linen garments (your priest's clothing, which are representative of your righteous acts in Christ) if you had "mingled linen and woolen," which is to say, if you had mixed the righteousness of the Word of God with the unrighteous or profane religious traditions of man. This is that garment "mingled of linen and woolen," which can only lead you into the arms of the antichrist.

Though we all fall short in this earth age because of the flesh, God covers you with His righteousness in Christ (which is what the linen clothing symbolizes) because of your faith in His Word and the resulting works that spring forth from that faith. This is the "fine linen" wedding garment you'll wear at the Kingdom Wedding (Revelation 19:7-8). It's yours and yours alone. But it's only available to those who have earned a seat at that wedding through their faith and through the righteous works resulting from that faith.

How It All Ends...

So how does all of this "mixing" of opposites end? Let us turn to the book of Daniel for a sneak preview:

Dan 2:40 -- And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise.

Satan will finally achieve his goal. His "kingdom of iron" will be set in place on this earth. It will overtake all other kingdoms. But it will be a short lived victory, for you cannot mix good and evil, and remain stable.

Dan 2:41 -- And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

The feet and toes of Satan's one-world system -- that is, those things which it depends upon for its very stability and mobility -- are a mixture of iron and clay. That's an idiom for instability. Iron does not mix very well with clay because they're of astonishingly different densities. The stability of the system is, as they say, problematic. (In other words, it's going down.)

Dan 2:42 -- And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken.

You cannot mix communism with capitalism, the religious traditions of man with the doctrines of Christ, Satan's children with God's children, and hope to make it work. It will be partly strong, and partly broken, right from the start.

Dan 2:43 -- And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with miry clay, they shall minge themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

This "mix" won't hold together for very long. It's destined to fall apart. You cannot mix good with evil, and expect a stable system. You cannot mix God's children with Satan's children and expect them to get along. Satan's children just can't help but torment and rob God's children, and once God's children figure it out, they won't take it for long. God's elect help bring this enlightenment about in the final days of this end generation, through their testimony of God's Word.

Dan 2:44 -- And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

God's stable and completely fair system replaces Satan's unstable and unjust system in the end. God will not tolerate Satan's system of mixing good with evil.

In short, this entire flesh earth age we live in has one big lesson for God's children to learn: God's way is perfect. It doesn't need to be tinkered with. Nothing needs to be mixed in to make it work better. Nothing needs to be added to it, and nothing needs to be taken away from it. And to what purpose is it to remain unmixed? "That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish" (Ephesians 5:27).

You cannot mix "things Godly" with "things ungodly" and prosper in the long run, nor expect

God to accept them. To do so always brings about corruption and captivity and ruin in the end. Trust Father, and trust His way, instead. As it's further written in the great book of Revelation:

Rev 22:18 -- For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

We are not to add or mix the traditions of man in with God's Word. You cannot mix Christianity with Judaism, or any other "ism." Christianity is the Word of God in action. Mixing it with anything else just won't work. It brings about deception and captivity and ultimate ruin. God will curse it in the end.

Rev 22:19 -- And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

We're not to leave anything out of God's Word, either (Mt. 23:23). Christ came "in the volume of the book" and as Christians we're to live in Christ, which means we're to live "in the volume of the book."

Unfortunately, in today's politically correct version of Christianity, all too many churches have cast out of their teaching curriculum the controversial messages God imparts to us through His Word. They simply repeat John 3:16 and other salvation passages over and over and over, usually to roomfuls of already-saved Christians.

God's Word states, for example, that Christ has enemies, and that we're not to mix with those enemies, doctrinally speaking. But how can we avoid mixing doctrinally with His enemies if those enemies are left unidentified because churches find the Scriptural information too controversial to teach in this politically correct age we live in?

We must teach all of God's Word, in truth and in spirit, even if it's "politically incorrect" to do so. And that includes teaching them Revelation 2:9, 3:9 and the parable of the tares in Matthew 13. (If these topics are unfamiliar to you, you can learn more about the meaning of Revelation 2:9 and 3:9, and the parable of the tares in the study, A Strange Thing: Mystery in the Garden.)

This is the great lesson all of God's children must learn if we're to return to that idyllic state that Father has set in order for us. Those who embrace God's Word and God's way wholeheartedly -- which means studying His Word daily and implementing into our lives the lessons we learn from His Word -- will indeed overcome in this flesh earth age, and achieve that restoration of inheritance (eternal life) which our heavenly Father has promised.

The Garden (i.e., Kingdom) Restored

Here's a description of that restoration, from the book of Revelation:

Rev 21:4 -- And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

Sounds an awful lot like the blissful life Adam and Eve had before the fall, doesn't it?

By following God's way through Christ Jesus, and rejecting Satan's way -- that is, by becoming like little children again, innocent to the ways of this world and its vain traditions -- that idyllic state of being will be restored. We'll regain our inheritance of eternal life which was lost when Adam and Eve allowed themselves to fall into Satan's "mixing" trap.

What's more, Satan's kingdom and all of its disastrous disruptions -- brought about through the mixing of good and evil -- will no longer exist.

Rev 21:5 -- And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

Our Father will make all things new, that is to say, he will rejuvenate all things. You can count on it. Stick with Him and His way. "Touch not the unclean thing."

Rev 21:6 -- And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

He's been in charge from the beginning to the end. And He always will be in charge. He allowed the events of this entire flesh earth age to occur as a lesson for us. A very important lesson: Satan's way does not work. It sooner or later results in pain and disruption, and ultimately death.

To have your lost inheritance restored, you must thirst after God's way. Your inheritance is eternal life. Yes, it was lost when Adam and Eve first bought into Satan's "mixing" doctrine. But it's regained when you turn away from Satan's confusion and come back to your heavenly Father and His Word, seeking them in sincerity and in truth.

Rev 21:7 -- He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

We overcome Satan's ways by learning God's ways, and embracing them with every fabric of our being. We know better than to try to mix the two, for there can be no mixing of good and evil, without purely evil results in the end.

Again, you cannot mix communism with capitalism, and expect a just system. You cannot mix the vain religious, political and social traditions of man with God's Word, and expect stability and blessings from God. You cannot mix Satan's children with God's children, and create “heaven on earth.”

God’s Word stands as written, on its own. His way alone produces that idyllic state of being we as Christians all long to return to. As Adam and Eve’s fall clearly informs us, God’s Word does not need any help from Satan. None at all.

Rev 21:8 -- But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

Those who still cling to Satan’s little synthesis of “good and evil” will be destroyed in the lake of fire at the end of the millennium.

Our heavenly Father will never again tolerate any soul who seeks to disrupt His family, capitalize on the disruptions, and rob them of their inheritance of eternal life. We can all praise Father for that, in the name of Yahshua Messiah, Jesus Christ!

And now you know why Satan is called “the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.” He’s the progenitor of a family tree that has brought great pain and sorrow into this world through its mix of good and evil.

Indeed, it started with a hybrid (i.e., mixed) child named Cain whose descendents – claiming to be “God’s chosen” in this final generation (Revelation 2:9 and 3:9) – have done nothing but mix good and evil, in order to bring about the corruption of God’s children and the re-institution of their father’s corrupt world system from the first earth age.

Thank God it’s a “tree” that’s been destined for destruction. As it’s written:

Matt 15:12 -- When came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying?

Like their father the devil, the Kenites don’t like God’s pure, unadulterated Word of Truth. They can’t handle it. It exposes them for the liars they are (Revelation 2:9/3:9; John 8:44). So they take great offense at it.

Matt 15:13 -- But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

And so it shall be at the end of the Millennium, when Father shall personally take care of this evil family “tree of the knowledge of good and evil” once and for all times.

One Final Piece of the Puzzle...

There’s one final piece of the “good and evil” puzzle we need to understand: God’s in charge.

It's our heavenly Father who created this flesh earth age, and set everything in it exactly as He wanted it to be. This includes both the positive and the negative aspects of it. He even allows the "mixing" to take place, as a lesson to us regarding what it inevitably brings about.

It was our heavenly Father who set both the Tree of Life and the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil in the garden. As He states through Moses in Deuteronomy 30:19, "I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live..."

So Father put the opposites here for us to learn by, and so we can, with our free will, choose between the two.

We're almost done here, so let's go quickly to the Psalms to get the whole picture, and not just part of it:

Psalms 104:19 -- He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.

Our heavenly Father appointed both the light and the darkness for this flesh earth age. That's to say, figuratively speaking, He appointed both His way and Satan's way. They both serve His purpose. He doesn't mix them together. That's something man does, in his ignorance under Satan's system. Instead, our Father lays the two ways out before us, so that we can choose which way we want to go in life.

But He's in charge of it all. He's in charge of the work of the Tree of Life. And He's in charge of the work of the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. It all serves His purpose in this flesh earth age, as part of His great plan to save His children. That should be very comforting to those with eyes to see and ears to hear. He's in complete control. He knows exactly what He's doing.

Psalms 104:20 -- Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.

The "beasts of the forest" in this earth age (i.e., the Kenites) creep forth under the cover of the Satanic darkness. This "darkness" is a metaphor for the Biblical illiteracy of God's children.

God has appointed both the Light and the darkness for this earth age. There are those who are Biblically literate (i.e., those whom God touches with His Spirit, and gives them a purpose and a destiny in this flesh earth age), and there are those who are Biblically illiterate (i.e., those whom God has allowed to be blinded by Satan, re: Romans 11:7; 2 Corinthians 4:4).

There's a profound lesson in this for all of His children. For in the first earth age, many chose to be blind to His Word. And today they do the same. They must now learn where that blindness leads. Therefore, those who preferred to have "pleasure in unrighteousness" have been blinded to the truth, for now.

Psalms 104:21 -- The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat from God.

Yes, the Biblically illiterate will be devoured by the “young lions” of Satan who seek after them as prey. This is why the Scripture states that we as faithful Christians are to “be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour...” (I Peter 5:8). Satan’s children the Kenites – those “young lions” -- do the work of their father the “roaring lion” in this earth age (John 8:44).

But as you can see from the above verse, God allows this. Do you realize that some of God’s children in this flesh earth age have been appointed by our heavenly Father to be “meat” for the “young lions” of Satan? That’s to say, He’s appointed them to be spiritually devoured by Satan’s “young lions” who operate under the cover of darkness (i.e., meaning Satan’s children who take full advantage of the Biblical illiteracy of God’s children).

But, it’s done so that in the end, God’s wayward children will know with a certainty – that is to say, from personal experience -- that failure to follow the Word of God leads to spiritual death. It’s a lesson they need in this flesh earth age, in order to be restored to life, spiritually, during the Millennium. In the end, it’s designed to save them. God knows their stubborn intransigence from the first age, where they earned the ignoble position of being “food” for the enemy in the final days of this flesh earth age.

Psalms 104:22 -- The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.

Psalms 104:23 -- Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labour until the evening.

The sun arises, and the animals of the night head for their dens. Likewise, when you shine the light of truth on those who weave good and evil together in this flesh earth age, those workers of darkness go scurrying back into their dens.

This is the job of the elect. We bring forth the Light (i.e., teach God’s Word in fullness and in truth) so that God’s children have some reprieve from the workers of darkness, should they so choose to take advantage of it. If they come to the light, they’re no longer “food” for the enemy.

Psalms 104:24 -- O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

Again, in His great wisdom, our heavenly Father created, and controls, the whole ball of wax. This earth age contains both His way, and the way of the “knowledge of good and evil” because He appointed it that way. He put it all here for us to learn from. It’s part and parcel of His great plan to save His children.

It’s very much like parents who allow their little child to touch a candle flame. They don’t do so out of malice. They do so because they know the child will only do it once. And then the lesson will be learned. The flame burns. That's the lesson of this flesh earth age.

In other words, God allows His children to witness and experience both "ways" so they'll know in the end which way to choose.

For most, that choice will be made during the Millennium. As Christ would later state, "I am the way, the truth and the life." To return to Father's perfect kingdom, you must do so through Christ Jesus, the Living Word of God. He's the way of eternal life. And He'll be here, along with His elect, throughout the Millennium teaching period so that God's wayward children can finally learn the difference between the true and the false, the holy and the profane, the clean and the unclean, and never mix them together again.

Psalms 104:25 -- So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.

Our heavenly Father made "this great and wide sea" (i.e., the sea is a metaphor for "the people, and nations, and multitudes and tongues" of the earth – Rev. 17:15). He made everything in the sea. And He controls it all.

Psalms 104:26 -- There go the ships: there is that leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

The "ships" are put for the great world commerce of the end days (Rev. 18:17-19). Our heavenly Father even placed Satan, that old dragon, the devil, in the "sea" (i.e., among the peoples of the earth in the final days of this earth age), so that we could choose between our Father's way, and Satan's way of "mixing" good and evil.

Psalms 104:27 -- These wait all upon thee; that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.

It's all under our heavenly Father's control, and in complete accord with His great plan to save His children. Some will come to Him now, and some will come to Him during the Millennium. But all in their due season.

Psalms 104:28 -- That [which] thou givest them they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.

He supplies all of our needs in this flesh earth age, if we choose to partake of His bounty through Christ Jesus.

Psalms 104:29 -- Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.

If we choose not to partake, He hides His face, and allows the trouble (i.e., Satan’s system) to come forth. He controls when we live, and when we die.

Psalms 104:30 -- Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.

And in the end, He brings about the renewal (i.e., rejuvenation) of all good things (Rev. 21:1-5). It’s all part of His great plan to save His children and bring them into His eternal kingdom.

Psalms 104:31 -- The glory of the LORD shall endure for ever: the LORD shall rejoice in his works.

Saving His children causes our heavenly Father great joy. You can help bring Him some of that joy by participating in His plan. But to do so, you have to know His Word. His Word and His plan are the same, beloved. Study it daily to show yourself approved (II Timothy 2:15).

Psalms 104:32 -- He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, and they smoke.

This flesh earth age is going to be done away with. There will be no more “mix” of good and evil. That evil family “tree” (Satan and his unrepentant children) will have been done away with, along with all who willfully choose to continue to follow in its way after having been taught the full truth during the Millennium.

Psalms 104:33 -- I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.

We praise Him for the eternal life He offers. It’s what He wants for all of His children (II Peter 3:9), if they will only partake of it through His Word.

Psalms 104:34 -- My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the LORD.

Thanks to Christ, we can partake even now of His Word that leads to life eternal.

Psalms 104:35 -- Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless thou the LORD, O my soul. Praise ye the LORD.

And so it is that in the end, there will be no more evil. The wicked one will be gone forever, along with all who willingly and knowingly choose to follow him.

So, how do we know there will be no more “light and dark” (i.e., symbolic of opposing qualities that result in division) in the renewed age to come? It’s simple. We go to the Scripture, where that great and eternal age is described:

In the Eternity

Revelation 21:23 -- And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

The things of this flesh earth age will pass forever, both sun and moon, and there will be only Light. The opposing darkness will be gone forever. The season of eternal Life/Light will be upon us. No more mixing between opposing doctrines, ideas, forces, etc. It is only through the redemptive act of Christ Jesus on the cross, and the subsequent work of the Holy Spirit within the many-membered body of Christ, that brings about true eternal unity between God and His children.

Revelation 21:24 -- And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

God's children who choose to renounce the mixing of light and darkness of this flesh earth age and follow His way will be there, bringing their glory and honour (i.e., their love and thanks) to Him.

Revelation 21:25 -- And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

In this flesh earth age, the only reason you have to shut the gates at night is to keep the enemy out. There will be no more enemy and no more darkness, in the eternal age to come. Therefore, the gates to God's eternal kingdom remain open always.

Revelation 21:26 -- And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

Again, all of God's children who have come to their senses and decided to do things His way will enter in to that eternal kingdom, with love and great thanks to Father.

Revelation 21:27 -- And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

That which defiles (i.e., by mixing good and evil together) will have been completely done away with at that time.

The Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil (i.e., Satan and his family, the Kenites), and all who choose to follow in its way, will be gone forever.

The eternal age is only for those who are written in the Lamb's book of life, which is to say, it's only for those who reject the mixture that emanates from Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, and choose to follow the singular way of the Tree of Life (i.e., Christ Jesus and the family of God).

Satan's so-called "great transformative work" will be over with. It will end in utter failure. Mixing good and evil only brings about weakness, confusion, pain, suffering and problems. In these final days of this flesh earth age, when so many things are now being mixed together, be careful to stick with the truth, and avoid the mix.
